an accessible and current yet in depth introduction to conducting a case study or a project focusing on a company or business situation this textbook provides an introduction to identifying the motivation and objectives for a project defining and designing a research question guiding a research plan conducting the research gathering and interpreting data and understanding the context of your research it is suitable for undergraduates undertaking a research project for the first time and for those with more experience who want to make the process fun this book describes and exemplifies strategies for teaching history across the 11 19 age range in rigorous and enjoyable ways it illustrates active learning approaches embedded in pupil led enquiries through detailed case studies which involve students in planning and carrying out historical enquiries creating accounts and presenting them to audiences in ways that develop increasingly sophisticated historical thinking the case studies took place in a number of different localities and show how practising teachers worked with pupils during each year from y6 7 to y 13 to initiate plan and implement enquiries and to present their findings in a variety of ways each case study is a practical example which teachers can use as a model and modify for their own contexts showing how independent learning linked to group collaboration and peer assessment can enhance learning social constructivist theories of learning applied to historical thinking underpin the book with particular emphasis on links between personalised and collaborative learning and e learning
