fisher frey s answer to close and critical reading no doubt since the cave paintings of prehistoric times humans have asked questions to make sense of the message so what could possibly be new about posing questions about text plenty and with tdq doug fisher and nancy frey reveal it all after one quick read you will have learned all the very best ways to use text dependent questions as scaffolds during close reading and the big understandings they can yield especially when executed the fisher and frey way but that's just for starters fisher and frey also include illustrative video actual texts and questions examples from across content areas and an online professional learning guide making the two volumes of tdq a potent professional development tool across all of k-12 the genius of tdq is the way fisher and frey break down the process into four cognitive pathways that help teachers organize the journey through a text and frame an extended discussion around it step by step this approach ensures that in every close reading lesson students are guided to consider explicit and implied meanings and deeply analyze and appreciate various aspects of a text especially those that may be challenging or confusing here's how the four inter-related processes play out with every why and every how answered what does the text say general understandings and key details how does the text work vocabulary structure and author's craft what does the text mean logical inferences and intertextual connections what does the text inspire you to do write investigate present debate the cool thing these questions ignite students engagement and discussion because they strategically lead students to a place of understanding where explicit and implied meanings and interpretations can be debated far from being overly literal or teacher led the questioning framework fisher and frey advance enhances the quality of student talk and idea generation all in all there's no better resource to cultivate students capacity for independent reading and incisive thinking longtime collaborators and recipients of numerous teaching and leadership awards douglas fisher and nancy frey are professors of educational leadership at san diego state university as well as teacher leaders at health sciences high middle college what it really means to read closely what could fern arable jay gatsby and winston churchill possibly have in common they all need masterful teachers to help students revel in their complexity and nancy frey and doug fisher are just the two mentors to help you make that happen call it close reading call it deep reading call it analytic reading call it what you like the point is it's a level of understanding that students of any age can achieve with the right kind of instruction in rigorous reading nancy and doug articulate an instructional plan so clearly and so squarely built on research that teachers schools and districts need look no further the 5 access points toward proficiency purpose modeling teachers think aloud to demonstrate critical thinking and how good readers always know why they are reading close scaffolded reading instruction teachers engage students in repeated readings and discussions with text dependent questions prompts and cues to help students delve into an author's ideas collaborative conversations teachers orchestrate collaborative learning to get students in the habit of exercising their analytical thinking in the presence of their peers an independent reading staircase teachers artfully steer students to more challenging books with strategic bursts of instruction and peer conferences to foster metacognitive awareness performance teachers offer feedback and assessments that help students demonstrate understanding of text in authentic ways and plan instruction based on student understanding there's more also included are illustrative classroom video clips available via qr codes along with an online facilitator's guide with powerpoints making rigorous reading the only resource a teacher school or district needs to seriously stretch students capacity to read and comprehend text
