the services and resources in this book reflect the iona community's commitment to the belief that worship is all that we are and all that we do both inside and outside the church with no division into the sacred and the secular the material draws on many traditions including the celtic and aims to help us to be fully present to god in our neighbour in the political and social activity of the world around us and in the very centre and soul of our being the lord's prayer unites christians of all traditions it is the first and perhaps only prayer that people learn by heart however its patriarchal and kingdom imagery do not resonate universally today how do we pray the prayer jesus taught us in ways which are authentic and life giving this volume emerging from years of praying the lord's prayer offers a series of prayers and poems written in response to it they wrestle with its central images and bring our own stories and relationships into dialogue with it each prayer uses the address abba or amma aramaic terms of intimate address to god as father or mother which reflect jesus usage drawing on the abbas and ammas of the desert tradition as well as our own parental relationships it aims to integrate our whole human journey into the vocation of being a follower of jesus an extended introduction explores why praying the lord's prayer is significant how it is problematic and how contemporary theological reinterpretations offer fresh perspective on it fifty new prayers from young and old and from folk around the globe from glasgow to cincinnati from malawi to alaska that might be used in a daily discipline many on the concerns of the iona community poverty and economic justice welcome and hospitality interfaith dialogue church renewal peacemaking what was jesus of nazareth really like what effect did he have on those he met and befriended how did he impart his teachings and perform his miracles these are the questions that james harpur explores through joseph of arimathea one of the most enigmas the ministry of healing plays a vital and central part in the life of the iona community it is a ministry in which justice is as important as medicine reverence for the earth is as vital as respect for the individual person and the health of the body politic matters as much as the health of the body personal in addition to giving a taste of the background context and range of this work praying for the dawn offers detailed resources for those who wish to introduce the ministry of healing to their own churches or groups but are unsure of where to start tom gordon introduces us to people who have been helped to live until they die or to live through bereavement when they felt it was never going to be possible or to live with illness and suffering and problems which threatened to overwhelm them completely as well as hearing some of their stories we learn about images and techniques the author has offered to help such people regain meaning and purpose in their lives to face their need for living written when the author worked as a marie curie hospice chaplain this attractively simple prayer book reflects the distinctive celtic character of daily worship at iona abbey outlines are given for morning midday and evening prayer for every day of the week each day having its own theme
