drawing on the underrepresentation of the global south in global knowledge production with a focus on the existing inequalities the book highlights the importance of postcolonial narratives within global southern epistemologies in english language teaching elt and teaching english to speakers of other languages tesol chapters consider the epistemological landscapes of these fields their dedication to english teaching and english related topics and the intersection of the colonality of language and the supremacy of english worldwide the book explores the type of discussion that is needed to advance a more nuanced understanding of sociopolitical circumstances and how they shape our academic practices and theorizations of elt and tesol in doing so chapters examine the current geopolitics of knowledge that are found in journal publishing citing how it favours the global north and further exploring ways of decolonizing language practices teaching approaches and research cultures calling for greater visibility and recognition of southern ways of knowing within elt and tesol practice and research the book will be an essential reading for scholars researchers and students of tesol elt applied linguistics and multilingualism

we live in a learning society more and more research is being done on how people learn this practical book looks at current theories of learning how they have developed and demonstrates how these can be put into practice education and learning are separate things learning is a human phenomenon essential to growth and development occurring throughout life with or without a teacher the authors begin with a broad examination of the social changes that have made learning such a central concept in contemporary society and discuss the definition of learning the current theoretical approaches to learning are then presented in clear understandable terms with an in depth discussion of the strengths and weaknesses of each approach the book ends with an introduction to the literature and forms of adult learning and suggestions on how each type can be used in either an educational or human resource developmental setting unique in the way it links five major career development and choice theories to a fictional case client this user friendly text is ideal for counselors engaged in helping clients make wise career choices thoroughly updated the third edition of career theory and practice takes a multicultural approach as it blends theory practical examples and specific cases helping readers apply a wide range of career development theories to counseling clients this book deals with curriculum issues and problems and one of its aims is to help practising teachers to clarify their own theory and practice in relation to the curriculum the contributors look at three popular theories or sets of assumptions held by teachers the child centred view of education the subject centred or knowledge centred view and the society centred view each of these views is incomplete on its own but each has something to contribute in planning a curriculum as a whole and the authors emphasize that a comprehensive theory of curriculum planning would take into account the individual nature of the pupil and also recognize the social value of education this kind of comprehensive curriculum planning has been described as the situation centred curriculum based on the idea that schools should be concerned with preparing the young for the world as it will be when they leave school one of the purposes of education is to develop a child s autonomy he or she must learn to cope with the variety of situations which will face him or her in society thus many different approaches must be employed in establishing a basis for the complex task of curriculum planning the book draws on the disciplines of philosophy psychology history and sociology to suggest new approaches to curriculum objectives and evaluation it considers the theoretical bases of curriculum models practical issues of planning evaluation and pedagogy and discusses some urgent contemporary questions about the politics and control of the curriculum this book offers a model to bridge the differences between political theorists and social scientists focusing on deliberative practices
