nobel prize winner twenty three political essays that focus on the victims of history from the fallen maquis of the french resistance to the casualties of the cold war in the speech he gave upon accepting the nobel prize for literature in 1957 albert camus said that a writer cannot serve today those who make history he must serve those who are subject to it resistance rebellion and death displays camus rigorous moral intelligence addressing issues that range from colonial warfare in algeria to the social cancer of capital punishment but this stirring book is above all a reflection on the problem of freedom and as such belongs in the same tradition as the works that gave camus his reputation as the conscience of our century the stranger the rebel and the myth of sisyphus

this book examines the problem of theodicy arising from the fall of jerusalem 587 b c e in the book of jeremiah it explores the ways in which the authors of the book of jeremiah tried to explain away their god s responsibility while clinging to the idea of divine mastery over human affairs in order to trace the development of a particular book s understanding of god s role in meting out punishments this book analyzes all the passages containing the word pivotal הכעים to provoke to anger in deuteronomistic history and the book of jeremiah this book focuses attention on the central elements of human religious existence vergote s primary aim and viewpoint are clear to examine empirically and to interpret dynamically the psychological factors at work in the field of religion vergote consistently adheres to the position that psychology is neither philosophy nor theology and that its task is not to explain religion in this work he situates religion as a cultural fact and studies how persons orient themselves to it positively and or negatively rather than emphasise and juxtapose belief and unbelief as alternative positions he sees them as threads of experiences interwoven throughout the human existence of persons and institutions in this context he studies motivations and their ambivalences religious experiences and their ambiguities conflicts between religious belief and unbelief and the various expressions and practices of religion
