for a parent losing a child is the most devastating event that can occur most books on the subject focus on grieving and recovery but as most parents agree there is no recovery from such a loss this book examines the continued love parents feel for their child and the many poignant and ingenious ways they devise to preserve the bond through detailed profiles of parents. Ann Finkbeiner shows how new activities and changed relationships with their spouse, friends, and other children can all help parents preserve a bond with the lost child. Refusing to fall back on pop jargon about recovery or to offer easy suggestions or standardized timelines, Finkbeiner's is a genuine and moving search to come to terms with loss. Her complex profiles of parents resonate with the honesty and authenticity of uncomfortable emotions expressed and most importantly shared with others experiencing a similar loss. Finally, each profile exemplifies the many heroic ways parents learn to live with their pain and by so doing honor the lives their children should have lived.
