life boils down to two simple questions what is my purpose and what should i accomplish during my limited time on earth anyone who has struggled with these questions can relate to clifton l west iii a baptist church deacon who shares his story of an extraordinary life lived by an ordinary man he writes about his faith and journey through life offering a message of hope and encouragement for anyone who has struggled with challenges of their own of life and time focuses on the ingredients for a life well lived affirmation love and righteous and loving instruction even as it shares details about west who attended school in topeka kansas just one year after the supreme court case brown vs the board of education of topeka that led to school desegregation clifton a runner was national champion in the mile run in 1968 led the university of california track and field team and almost made the 1972 olympic team through his own personal struggles with the help of his savior jesus christ clifton comes to the realization that unconditional love and relationships with others provide the key to good living even as he realizes his looming mortality of life and time delivers his timely message of personal testimony a resounding message of unrelenting hope and unconditional joy for those willing to receive it please note this is a companion version not the original book sample book insights 1 people become frustratingly complicated when they doubt the legitimacy of their desires which is often the case when they are afraid of how an audience might respond if their true intentions were to be known 2 we can untangle ourselves from our evasiveness and inadvertent slyness by noticing and growing curious about the origins of our behavior we can recognize that our complicated behavior doesn t please people and that they would rather face frustration head on than be sold a fine tale 3 the most powerful instinct we have when we meet someone we re attracted to is to try to please them and we naturally assume that the best way to do this is to signal strongly just how much we agree with their views and choices on all matters great and small 4 we must be honest with ourselves when we are trying to seduce others we must know that we are not perfect but we are not wholly abject or shameful we must have the courage to share and accommodate the actual complexities of human nature the philosophy of life and welcome to paradise by a r pugh the philosophy of life and welcome to paradise is author a r pugh s attempt to promulgate superficial sentimentalities let him introduce you to some of his monumental verboisities they are not related one to the other but just placed at random remember that you have a wonderful and powerful tool at your disposal and that tool is the mind s eye so let us start with the individual that you know best and that person is you ask yourself a few simple questions for example 1 what is my mission on this planet earth 2 the things that i choose to do are they right or are they wrong now have a good look at the lifestyle of other individuals what do
