spirit wind a collaborative investigation into the works and person of the holy spirit clearly and richly demonstrates diversity in theological perspectives but unity in the christian faith all theological discussions should aim at humbly respecting theological distinctiveness while sincerely encouraging theological conversations spirit wind offers itself to achieve just that spirit wind consists of nine chapters written by nine chinese theologians born in the orient and trained in the west who are now serving passionately as seminary professors in australia singapore taiwan or the united states

each author endeavors to explain the person and works of the holy spirit not only from chinese standpoints but also from biblical historical and cultural pastoral perspectives and yet all chapters are theological in nature no theologian claims to capture all matters about the spirit but every author of this book is captivated by the powerful presence sovereign freedom and beautiful operations of the holy spirit you will be too one of the most persistent slogans of reformed theology is that it is reformed and always being reformed but what does this slogan mean this volume gathers thirteen essays written by a younger generation of reformed theologians who teach and write on five different continents who together offer this work in christian systematic theology unlike many other works of reformed theology however this book is framed by pressing contextual issues and questions instead of traditional loci each chapter engages classical doctrine but does so through the lens of contemporary lived experience in particular contexts the result is not a theology where doctrines are applied to contexts but an approach where doctrine and context mutually shape one another the contributors take seriously the notion that theology is always being reformed and is always partial ever on the way hence it requires conversation partners beyond the reformed family of faith the result is a study in reformed theology that is thoroughly ecumenical
