Expressive morphology in the languages of South Asia explores the intricacies of the grammars of several of the languages of the South Asian subcontinent. Specifically, the contributors to this volume examine grammatical resources for shaping elaborate rhyming and alliterative expressions conveying the emotions, states, conditions, and perceptions of speakers. These forms, often referred to as expressives, remain relatively undocumented until now. It is clear from the evidence on contextualized language use that the grammatically artistic usage of these forms enriches and enlivens both everyday and ritualized genres of discourse. The contributors to this volume provide grammatical and sociolinguistic documentation through a typological introduction to the diversity of expressive forms in the languages of South Asia. This book is suitable for students and researchers in South Asian languages and language families of the following: Dravidian, Indo-Aryan, Iranian, Sino-Tibetan, and Austro-Asiatic.

Master's thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Business Economics: Offline Marketing and Online Marketing. Grade 1.0. Language: English. Abstract: In this dissertation, it was shown that storytelling is a critical success factor in video advertisements, and storytelling elements are a permanent and significant feature of the 30 most viewed video advertisements as determined by the YouTube Ads leaderboard for the years 2014, 2015, and 2016. While the role of storytelling in advertisements and its persuasive power on consumer behaviour have been widely researched, empirical studies on the presence and significance of storytelling elements deployed in successful video advertisements are missing. The research objectives of this study were to identify and analyse the storytelling elements deployed in the 30 most viewed video advertisements and to provide guidance for marketers and advertisers so that they can understand the vital storytelling elements in video advertisements and consequently make the most of this technique. This exploratory research is based on an interpretivist research philosophy and qualitative research methodologies. For the data collection and analysis, qualitative content analysis was applied. This study empirically examined the storytelling elements deployed in the 30 most viewed video advertisements. As a result, 12 elements are identified as vital elements for video advertisements: message, conflict, characters, beginning, middle, end, authenticity, reversal, connectedness, the basic plots, archetypes, fictional story, emotions, and music. These findings provide insights for marketers and advertisers aiming to convey their messages through storytelling in video advertisements. While there is no set formula for a successful video advertisement, this study revealed that a few vital storytelling elements appeal to a global audience, and some of the most viewed video advertisements have these elements in common
