this book grew from a series of lectures presented in 1983 in the context of the summer program in phenomenology at the pennsylvania state university for these lectures i made use of notes and short essays which i had written between 1978 and 1982 during interdisciplinary seminars on heidegger s later philosophy in general and on his philosophy of language and art in particular the participants in these seminars consisted of faculty members and graduate students concerned with the sciences the arts literature literary criticism art history art education and philosophy on both occasions i made a special effort to introduce those who did not yet have a specialized knowledge of heidegger s philosophy to his later way of thinking in this effort i was guided by the conviction that we as a group had to aim for accuracy precision clarity faithfulness and depth while at the same time taking distance comparing heidegger s views with ideas of other philosophers and thinkers and cultivat ing a proper sense of criticism over the years it has become clear to me that among professional philoso phers literary critics scholars concerned with art history and art education and scientists from various disciplines there are many who are particularly interested in heidegger s philosophy of art i have also become convinced that many of these dedicated scholars often have difficulty in understanding heidegger s lectures on art and art works this is understandable can fine art survive in an age of mass media if so in what forms and to what purpose and can radical art still play a critical role in today s divided world these are the challenging questions addressed in this thoroughly revised updated and expanded edition of art in the age of mass media as john walker examines the fascinating relationship between art and mass media and the myriad interactions between high and low culture in a postmodern culturally pluralistic world using a range of historic and contemporary works of art to illustrate theoretical points walker explores the variety of ways in which modern artists have responded to the arrival of new mass media he ranges from the socialist paintings of courbet to the anti nazi photomontages of heartfield from community murals and keith haring s use of graffiti to the kitsch self promotion associated with jeff koons the new edition describes what happened during the 1990s including toscani s adverts for benetton the simulations of leeds 13 art and cinema damien hirst and the cyberart currently being produced for the internet art in the age of mass media is an invaluable introduction to the continuing debates between high art and low culture for students of media and cultural studies and art history
