this book is a translation of maurice blanchot's work that is of major importance to late 20th century literature and philosophy studies using the fragmentary form blanchot challenges the boundaries between the literary and the philosophical with the obsessive rigor that has always marked his writing blanchot returns to the themes that have haunted his work since the beginning writing death transgression the neuter but here the figures around whom his discussion turns are hegel and nietzsche rather than mallarme and kafka the metaphor blanchot uses for writing in the step not beyond is the game of chance fragmentary writing is a play of limits a play of ever multiplied terms in which no one term ever takes precedence through the randomness of the fragmentary blanchot explores ideas as varied as the relation of writing to luck and to the law the displacement of the self in writing the temporality of the eternal return the responsibility of the self towards the others writing in fragments is often held to be one of the most distinctive signature effects of romantic modern and postmodern literature but what is the fragment and what may be said to be its literary philosophical and political significance few writers have explored these questions with such probing radicality and rigorous tenacity as the french writer and thinker maurice blanchot for the first time in any language this book explores in detail blanchot's own writing in fragments in order to understand the stakes of the fragmentary within philosophical and literary modernity it attends in detail to each of blanchot's fragmentary works awaiting forgetting the step not beyond and the writing of the disaster and reconstructs blanchot's radical critical engagement with the philosophical and literary tradition in particular with hegel nietzsche heidegger heraclitus levinas derrida nancy mallarmé char and others and assesses blanchot's account of politics jewish thought and the shoah with a view to understanding the stakes of fragmentary writing in blanchot and within philosophical and literary modernity in general
