the best new writing photography art and reportage from and about paris in the rich and engrossing series for literary travelers times literary supplement paris's postcard image has suffered multiple blows in recent years the november 2015 terrorist attacks the demonstrations of the yellow vests the riots in the suburbs notre dame in flames record heatwaves and the coronavirus meanwhile soaring living costs are forcing many parisiens to leave the city yet these are not just a series of unfortunate events they are phenomena from increasing population density to climate change from immigration to the repercussions of globalization and geopolitics that all metropolises in the world must face and in paris today the mood is not one of defeat but of renewal from the city's ongoing environmental and urbanistic transformation to the fight by a new generation of chefs against the traditionalism of starred restaurants from the children of immigrants who take to the streets for the right to feel french to the women determined to break the sexism and stereotypes that dominate the fashion industry is there anyone who seriously thinks they can teach parisiens how to make a revolution this volume includes out of the shadows by tash aw against the stars by tommaso melilli afraid of being free by samar yazbek plus the champs elysées between luxury and riots the french republic between anti semitism and islamophobia the most elegant congolese dandies of all time one parisian woman you will not encounter the city's legendary football team that is not the psg and much more the passenger readers will find none of the typical travel guide sections on where to eat or what sights to see consider the books rather more like a literary vacation publishers weekly walter benjamin's magnum opus was a book he did not live to write in the dialectics of seeing susan buck morss offers an inventive reconstruction of the passagen werk or arcades project as it might have taken form working with benjamin's vast files of citations and commentary which contain a myriad of historical details from the dawn of consumer culture buck morss makes visible the conceptual structure that gives these fragments philosophical coherence she uses images throughout the book to demonstrate that benjamin took the debris of mass culture seriously as the source of philosophical truth the paris arcades that so fascinated benjamin as they did the surrealists whose materialist metaphysics he admired were the prototype the 19th century ur form of the modern shopping mall benjamin's dialectics of seeing demonstrate how to read these consumer dream houses and so many other material objects of the time from air balloons to women's fashions from baudelaire's poetry to grandville's cartoons as anticipations of social utopia and simultaneously as clues for a radical political critique buck morss plots benjamin's intellectual orientation on axes running east and west north and south moscow paris berlin naples and shows how such thinking in coordinates can explain his understanding of dialectics at a standstill she argues for the continuing relevance of benjamin s insights but then allows a set of afterimages to have the last word
