are there connections between misogyny and antisemitism if so what would these connections be and to what degree are these prejudices reinforced or even generated by nineteenth century science this book explores these compelling questions by discussing two italian authors of the late nineteenth century a period when both antisemitism and misogyny were crucial concerns to society as they still are today one author cesare lombroso was a famous criminologist whose ideas about juvenile court indeterminate sentencing and parole still influence the american justice system he was jewish himself yet wrote a book about antisemitism which blamed the jews for their condition and proposed assimilation as an answer to the problem of prejudice he also wrote highly derogatory work on women the other author matilde serao a well known journalist and novelist built a brilliant career for herself but in her newspaper editorials advised other women to stay home in her novels she often demonstrated ambivalence and hostility towards women s condition and she used antisemitic stereotypes in some of her work antisemitism misogyny and the logic of cultural difference demonstrates how similar is the logic of these two authors prejudice towards women and jews as they both depend on the science of their day such as darwinism to justify their views it raises as well the issues of why their prejudice focuses on women and jews since one author is jewish and the other a woman how prejudice towards different groups can intersect and the role of the difficult and complex concept of self hatred
