are attempts to reconcile the qur ān with modernity by producing translations that encompass modern concepts and interpretations of the qur <sup>آن</sup> are these modern concepts and interpretations valid or they alter the word of god this is the main question that the book attempts to answer particularly that these early translations have affected and still affect qur <sup>آن</sup> translation short of delving into the underlying communicative principles that motivate their differences over interpretation the author's formulation of the muslim legal theorists views is enhanced by setting up a reliable theoretical foundation and by delving into their underlying philosophical principles this involves relating the legal theorists insights into interpretation and communication to their relevant ontological epistemological and theological outlooks and comparing these insights with their modern pragmatic counterparts this volume exposes some of the various issues raised in relation to muslim communities in europe by putting the intellectual and legal traditions into dialogue it brings together a number of scholars of shari'a and islamic law with counterparts from the parallel european disciplines of hermeneutics philosophy and jurisprudence to explore how the processes of theological legal thinking have been expressed and are being expressed in a more or less common intellectual framework it provides a valuable reference for all those interested in exploring how muslims and non muslims view shari'a law looking at ways the european legal systems can provide some form of accommodation with muslim customs
