we all have failed all have sinned says the bible leaving no one exempt yet we cringe at the very thought of our own failure especially a big one we try to cover it up and hide it from the world particularly from those closest to us but we cannot hide it from ourselves and inevitably along with the actual failure comes the awful sting of regret disappointment and feelings of worthlessness as our world whether publicly or privately crumbles around us we then face the next question what next we wonder how there can be a next because we feel that our life is over or that we are destined to remain in our same rut of failure forever but author k p yohannan boldly declares that nothing could be further from the truth in when we have failed what next the president of gospel for asia graciously takes us on a journey from our darkest failure toward a bright and hopeful future he again and again depicts god s unfailing love for us and his marvelous ability to bring out his very best for our lives especially in the midst of our failure in a key passage from a book filled with profound thoughts dr yohannan declares it s not the size of our sin that determines whether or not we recover from a fall it s our response how we deal with our failure determines our future citing numerous real life examples this little booklet reminds those in the midst of the battle that god desires to make your life into something beautiful and bring about his purposes through your failure this is a book that makes no compromise with sin but that encourages all of us to believe in god s grace and in his purpose for our lives and to look up for the best is truly yet to come
