cameron walkes is a barbadian born novelist who hasn t sold anything for nearly a year when he is encouraged to write an autobiography a reluctant cameron knows he is facing many obstacles what lessons could he teach how could he explain the recurrent dreams that had gradually increased his stress despite his trepidation cameron writes the first words of his autobiography later that night as his life story laboriously begins to take shape cameron traces his development from a poor fishing village in barbados through athletic and teaching careers and finally to attain a role as president of an american college while chronicling his pursuit of the american dream cameron also details why he left academia to take up writing as a profession and shares a glimpse into his mindset as his physical prowess declines leaving him with no choice but to face his own mortality but just as life comes full circle fate intervenes and provides an unexpected ending to cameron s story in this intriguing novel a barbadian immigrant who reluctantly begins penning his autobiography in an effort to boost his writing career embarks on a journey inward to reflect on his experiences elisabeth lutyens 1906 1983 elizabeth maconchy 1907 1994 and grace williams 1906 1977 were contemporaries at the royal college of music the three composers careers were launched with performances in the macnaghten lemare concerts in the 1930s a time when in britain as williams noted a woman composer was considered very odd indeed even so by the early 1940s all three had made remarkable advances in their work lutyens had become the first british composer to use 12 note technique in her chamber concerto no 1 1939 40 maconchy had composed four string quartets of outstanding quality and was busy rethinking the genre and williams had won recognition as a composer with great flair for orchestral writing with her fantasia on welsh nursery tunes 1940 and sea sketches 1944 in the following years lutyens maconchy and williams went on to compose music of striking quality and to attain prominent positions within the british music scene their respective achievements broke through the sound ceiling challenging many of the traditional assumptions which accompanied music by female composers rhiannon mathias traces the development of these three important composers through analysis of selected works the book draws upon previously unexplored material as well as radio and television interviews with the composers themselves and with their contemporaries the musical analysis and contextual material lead to a re evaluation of the composers positions in the context of twentieth century british music history vol 25 is the report of the commissioner of education for 1880 v 29 report for 1877 first published in 1997 this volume demonstrates that through his activities as a composer historian lecturer and administrator sir hubert parry 1848 1918 played a significant role in british music during the latter half of the nineteenth century yet despite his achievements this century has for the most part neglected both parry s writings and his compositions his name is remembered by the general public for one work alone jerusalem in this collection of essays bernard benoliel examines some of the reasons for this neglect and reassesses some of parry s most important works these essays show that it was due to the large number and diversity of his public engagements both social and work related that parry s musical achievements did not often reach the heights of creative genius of which he might otherwise have been capable by examining parry s personal relationships with his family and in particular with his wife maude benoliel reveals an immensely complex personality a man whose private and public selves were very much shaped by the society in which he lived the book concludes with a selection of parry s own published writings with introductions by the author
