the present book not only illustrates the isms conference s objectives and presents the contents of the lectures but also expands on them through further in depth contributions the results of academic research carried out on the conference topic both across disciplines and isms member states are thus further illuminated the book intends to provide teachers with a guide to possible developments in the field of military science and students with greater insights into its objectives and principles the key question is what added value what kind of usp military science could furnish for society what specific support not already covered by other scientific disciplines or organizations if it were only the science of organizing structuring and commanding armed forces it would not be necessary to define and establish an independent scientific discipline the military itself could accomplish all that in the required quality by itself what would give legitimacy to an independent discipline called military science is a comprehensive i e not only military strategic organic collection of primarily intellectual capabilities safeguarding the secure long term survival of the state and its people thus contributing to the benefit of society in order to increase the publication s academic value and to provide authors with an additional incentive to contribute in future the book was subjected to a peer review process prolonged civil wars can have long lasting adverse effects on food systems leading to poverty and food insecurity overcoming food insecurity and land inequality is particularly difficult because of the highly politicized nature of conflict this paper builds on the existing literature on food sovereignty to ensure sustainable livelihoods and community ownership of a resilient food system we identify components of community food security to be strengthened in a post war reconstruction context we study the impacts of the civil war on food and land administration systems farmer struggles and current transitional justice process in relation to community food security in the northern and eastern provinces in sri lanka and identify the technological institutional organizational and infrastructural setbacks caused by conflict it explores how such setbacks could be rectified and a resilient food system could be built in the postwar scenario this volume examines the causes and consequences of nuclear postures and nonproliferation policies the real world importance of nuclear weapons has led to the production of a voluminous scholarly literature on the causes and consequences of nuclear weapons proliferation missing from this literature however is a more nuanced analysis that moves beyond a binary treatment of nuclear weapons possession to an exploration of how different nuclear postures and nonproliferation policies may influence the proliferation of nuclear weapons and subsequent security outcomes this volume addresses this deficit by focusing on the causes and consequences of nuclear postures and nonproliferation policies it is the aim of this book to advance the development of a new empirical research agenda that brings systematic research methods to bear on new dimensions of the nuclear weapons phenomenon prior to the contributions in this volume there has been little evidence to suggest that nuclear postures and policies have a meaningful impact on the spread of nuclear weapons or security outcomes this book brings together a new generation of scholars advancing innovative theoretical positions and performing quantitative tests using original data on nuclear postures nonproliferation policies and wmd proliferation together the chapters in this volume make novel theoretical empirical and methodological contributions to the field of nuclear weapons proliferation this book will be of much interest to students of nuclear proliferation international relations and security studies
