sian is an experienced clairaudient clairvoyant and clairsentient channel of light who has dedicated many years of her life to the pursuit of helping others improve theirs now in healing of the goddess she brings readers within a life changing experience and the epiphany that it inspired after her soul was imploded by a massive psychic force she developed breast cancer causing a near death experience that took fifteen years from her life as she describes an extraordinary experience in her healing journey the hand of god encapsulated her soul with light giving her the strength and faith to endure long healing process to reinstate her body back to life she explains how breast cancer was the result of a karmic strike and how the keys of transformation allowed her to be healed cancer she has come to understand is a trial by tribulation the healing of the goddess explores the cause and effect factors that are the real underlying causes of disease and recalls sian's journey of self healing and transformation the challenge we all face is to truly understand the nature of life energy and healing if life is to be sustained the time has come for humanity to fundamentally address our relationship with all life on this glorious planet this is an auspicious and providential period in human evolution are we enlightened enough to shepherd in a new era of health and peace or will we condemn it with apathy and ignorance healing the split consists of the collected essays of poet literary critic and philosopher marc elihu hofstadter the essays stretch from hofstadter's early scholarly articles about poets william carlos williams and yves Bonnefoy through articles published in the redwood coast review about poetry art music science politics and france to recent articles concerning the split between the sciences and the humanities reason and feeling intuition faith the book embodies hofstadter's consistent belief in the idea that all human activities are composed of an objective element and a subjective element human knowledge whether scientific mathematical philosophical or artistic contains a degree of objective certainty mixed with a component of subjective feeling the differences between science and the humanities are differences of degree of objectivity not of essence and the knowledge the humanities display is a genuine form of knowledge less certain than science but rich in tangible felt experience even early in his career as a literary critic hofstadter was interested in how such otherwise diverse poets as williams and Bonnefoy sacralize the coming together of mind and world in all forms of human experience as williams put it no ideas but in things by which he meant not let there not be any ideas but let all ideas be inextricably entwined with the physical world hofstadter argues that in all our activities there is a mixture of the thinking reasoning mind and the parts of us that feel perceive touch our bodies our hearts science and philosophy are the great achievements of the mind while art and religion are the most powerful consummations of sensing and feeling yet science and philosophy are partly emotive and art and theology partly rational the difference again is in degree healing the split is an attempt to bring reason and feeling intuition faith together to show how they are intimately related the buddhist faith is key to this effort because buddhism doesn't analyze out reason and non rational knowledge as separate faculties but tries to unite them in a direct embodied kind of experience that heals the split between them and makes the individual human being whole in buddhism everything we know is known through consciousness and distinctions between subject and object mind and world logic and faith become artificial since consciousness is essentially unitary and buddhism sees all phenomena known through consciousness as being related in a universal web everything is connected ultimately to everything else and the world is essentially one healing the split is finally a work of mysticism in the line of parmenides who believed that everything is one or the kabbalists who worshipped the all in the form of ha shem the unnamable name marc elihu hofstadter was born in new york city in 1945 he received his b a in french literature from swarthmore college in 1967 and his ph d in literature from the university of california at santa cruz in 1975 he has taught american literature at santa cruz the universite d orleans on a fulbright lectureship and tel aviv university in 1980 he obtained his master of library science degree from the university of california at berkeley and from 1982 to 2005 served as the librarian of the city of san francisco s transit agency he has published five volumes of poetry house of peace visions shark s tooth luck and rising at 5 am all of which are available on amazon com and his poems translations and essays have appeared in over sixty magazines he lives in the retirement community of rossmoor in walnut creek california with his partner the artist david zurlin through a systems perspective this insightful book challenges the current state of healthcare in the united states arguing for overarching reforms that would lead ultimately to universal healthcare coverage across the country written by the president of the board of trustees of a rural hospital the book highlights the chronic issues facing american healthcare today namely high costs poor health outcomes excessive health inequalities and a lack of trust it uses systems thinking principles used in hospitals themselves to improve efficiency quality and safety of care to show how the fragmented system could be transformed by addressing these issues holistically the book also gives suggestions for rebuilding trust respect and mutual cooperation issues which are also critical in healing the current system grounded in the author s direct experience in facing the challenges of dealing with a fragmented system in america today this perceptive book will interest graduate students in healthcare administration policy or leadership programs as well as scholars in these and related fields heal thyself argues that our popular culture s fascination with the health benefits of religion reflects not the renaissance of the world's great religious traditions but the powerful combination of pervasive consumer capitalism and a deeply self-interested individualism a faith for health exchange say the authors serves to misrepresent and devalue the true meaning of faith such a utilitarian approach renders the content of faith superfluous allowing a generic highly personalized description of faith to take the place of a specific confessional commitment to what one believes and does as a member of a community of faith from the christian viewpoint the religion and health movement is dangerously deficient christians do not believe in the self-revelation of god in jesus christ in order to be healthy for christians learning to be religious does not mean enlisting faith as a vehicle to get what we want but rather learning by faith to want the right things at the right time and to live with a spirit of gratitude and hope jacket a child's only hope when widower nathan porter brings his grieving son zach to wyndermere house's camp he is desperate for a lifeline nathan's hoping the change of scenery to the woods of upstate new york will help mend his son's heart but the counselor assigned to his son's care seems too young and too pretty to be qualified paige mcfarlane's learned what loving someone and losing them costs but soon her efforts with zach reveal that to help the son she must also help the dad as nathan and paige work together to mend the boy's broken spirit they realize the walls around their own hearts could be crumbling as well no church is perfect just as no family is perfect this profound and honest book calls us to accept the church's humanness as it explores common dysfunctions but it also calls upon us to view each local congregation as a place where we can feel loved helped and forgiven
