during his lifetime brangwyn made large donations of his works to museums in the united kingdom and abroad including the victoria albert museum the british museum the william morris gallery the albertina in vienna and the gruuthuse in bruges as a result of this munificence substantial drawings by brangwyn especially his celebrated large sheets in red and black chalk only rarely appear on the market milestones in the collecting of brangwyn drawings include the christie s sale of william de bellerocche s collection 1961 and edgar horn s sale of edgar peacock s collection 2000 the recent discovery of works belonging to brangwyn s admirer father jerome esser presented in this catalogue marks a further watershed for collectors the drawings that became esser s collection which have lain hidden for over half a century were made up of works that Brangwyn with characteristic modesty had left in his studio with a written instruction most of this lot destroy never intended for presentation they explore and resolve alternative compositions and the relation of figures to each other and to the space they occupy. For himself a gifted artist would have appreciated these sheets complete with folds, scuffs and splodges of paint as true working drawings. Brangwyn himself believed that sketches show the most intimate side of an artist's career. Studies are usually the best thing an artist does.

This volume chronicles the museum's story from its opening ten days after the stock market crash of 1929 in a few rented rooms in a midtown office building up to the present day in its new building on West Fifty Third and Fifty Fourth Streets. The book presents a pictorial and documentary review of each year and each important period of the museum's history. It tells the story of how the Museum of Modern Art New York began as a small set of art galleries inaugurated by three ladies of means who had a passion for modern art through a selection of photographs, official documents, letters, quotations, newspaper clippings, cartoons and other ephemera. The complex and multilayered history of the museum unfolds in a visual march through time revealing the extraordinary vision of a determined group of individuals who had the ability and courage to translate their vision into reality. Frank Auerbach's world is London, his home since 1947. The German-born figurative painter, b. 1931, depicts the city and its inhabitants in thick, energetic, brilliantly colored brush strokes. His work, which includes landscapes and portraits that recall the old masters, has earned him a place among contemporaries such as Lucian Freud, Leon Kossoff, and R. B. Kitaj. This book is published to accompany a retrospective exhibition at the Royal Academy of Arts, London, with essays on the works, their place in Western art, and on the painter and his sitters. It brings Auerbach's art to a wider audience. Copyright Libri GmbH. All rights reserved.

Subject matter consists of representational arts in the broadest sense: architecture, sculpture, painting, and other man-made objects with no limits as to time, place, or cultural environment.
