the eloquence of silence first published in 1994 is considered a seminal text in the scholarship of women and north africa marnia lazreg makes a critical departure from more traditional studies of algerian women which usually examine female roles in relation to islam and instead takes an interdisciplinary approach arguing that algerian women s roles are shaped by a variety of structural and symbolic factors these include colonial domination demographic change nationalism family formation the turn to culturalism and the progressive shift to a capitalist economy grounded in archival research supplemented by interviews and adopting a historico critical method the book identifies and examines the significance of an enduring feature of women s journey their instrumental use as tropes in struggles between groups of men opposed to one another during political crises it demonstrates that despite being central to contentious political issues women s needs and aspirations were obscured just as their voices have traditionally been silenced this new edition is thoroughly updated throughout to connect the original material to major political disruptions in the twenty first century such as the 9 11 attacks on new york and events around the arab spring the book foregrounds women s determination to forge ahead as well as their activism which led to progress in fighting rape and other forms of violence made banal in the wake of the civil war 1992 2002 it also calls for a decolonization of concepts and theoretical systems used in accounting for women s lived reality and a questioning of facile postfeminist discourses in their manifold expressions the european convention for the prevention of torture and inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment was adopted by the committee of ministers of the council of europe in june 1987 it entered into force in february 1989 and all 47 member states are parties to the convention the convention has already established itself as an important human rights instrument its approach is quite different from that of the european convention on human rights whereas the echr provides a remedy for particular human rights violations after the event the convention for the prevention of torture ecpt seeks to prevent human rights violations through a system of visits to places of detention the convention is intended to be an integrated part of the council of europe system for the protection of human rights placing a proactive non judicial mechanism alongside the reactive judicial mechanism established under the echr the yearbook of the european convention for the prevention of torture offers an essential annual overview of developments in relation to the ecpt the present volume is arranged as follows part one contains information as to ratifications etc as at 31 december 2013 in the authentic english and french texts part two has details in english and french of the membership and activities of the cpt for 2013 part three reprints the twenty third annual general report of the cpt in the official english and french texts part four contains the cpt s reports to states and the state responses thereto that were made public during 2013 the cpt s reports are published in the official english and or french texts and state responses in the english and or french versions submitted by the states concerned bilingual english and french 3 volume set
