a certain difficulty of being provides an english speaking audience with an account of some of the most interesting narrative problems which mark the development of the quebec novel anthony purdy uses the tools of contemporary narratology to go beyond the more formal studies of the sixties and seventies why he asks are the narrators of the novels he studies telling the stories they tell and why do they experience such difficulty in doing so the canon of french literature has been the subject of much debate and now increasingly francophone literatures are demanding more attention in student french literature courses the first study in english of francophone literatures this book introduces the diverse bodies of texts in french from the numerous french speaking areas around the world with separate sections covering africa french canada the creole islands and europe and will provide students at both undergraduate and a level with a comprehensive introductory survey of the subject francophone literatures emerge from rich bi and multi lingual cultures in part as colonial legacies they also challenge the monopoly of the french literary tradition this introductory survey celebrates the linguistic difference of such texts and the creative possibilities offered by deviance from an established tradition demanding new critical approaches the texts studied here cast a new light upon french literature in terms of their diverse perspectives upon writing history politics and culture their violent rewritings subversive versions and parodies sometimes forming an elaborate pastiche of celebrated french texts guides to further reading a select bibliography and an extensive index combine to make the book an extremely readable introductory overview of a hitherto little explored area quebec s early novels are full of sacred themes and motifs devotional objects and practices parables and scripture priests and nuns transcendence divinity and eternity yet the critical gaze of the past fifty years has seldom engaged the idea of the sacred in a sustained way indeed the presence of the sacred has alienated modern and postmodern readers who ignore or downplay its significance leading to misguided assessments of these works as mediocre and even unreadable for contemporary audiences the sense of the sacred in the early novels of quebec reexamines seven classic novels at the foundations of quebec s national literature patrice lacombe s la terre paternelle 1846 p j o chauveau s charles guérin 1853 antoine gérim lajoie s jean rivard 1874 philippe aubert de gaspé s les anciens canadiens 1863 laure conan s angéline de montbrun 1884 louis hémon s maria chapdelaine 1916 and félix antoine savard s menaud maître draveur 1937 through chapters that focus on sacred themes character analysis narrative temporalities and the hermeneutics of the sacred lisa gasbarrone demonstrates that these novels are more nuanced and innovative than their reputation has allowed the sense of the sacred in the early novels of quebec reintroduces readers to classic works of french canadian literature that ironically and provocatively cast their quarrel with modernity in that essentially modern form the novel

a feminist re reading of the quebec literary tradition from laure conan and gabrielle roy to contemporary figures such as france théoret and régine robin
