exploring the contradictory forces shaping women s identities and experiences this collection examines the possibilities for commonalities and the forces of division between women in early modern europe the contributors analyse the critical power of gender to structure identities and experiences adding new depth to our understanding of early modern women s senses of exclusion and belonging in an exciting new approach to witchcraft studies the witch in the western imagination examines the visual representation of witches in early modern europe with vibrant and lucid prose lyndal roper moves away from the typical witchcraft studies on trials beliefs and communal dynamics and instead considers the witch as a symbolic and malleable figure through a broad sweep of topics and time periods employing a wide selection of archival literary and visual materials roper presents a series of thematic studies that range from the role of emotions in renaissance culture to demonology as entertainment and from witchcraft as female embodiment to the clash of cultures on the brink of the enlightenment rather than providing a vast synthesis or survey this book is questioning and exploratory in nature and illuminates our understanding of the mental and psychic worlds of people in premodern europe roper s spectrum of theoretical interests will engage readers interested in cultural history psychoanalytic theory feminist theory art history and early modern european studies these essays three of which appear here for the first time in print are complemented by more than forty images from iconic paintings to marginal drawings on murals or picture frames in her unique focus on the imagery of witchcraft lyndal roper has succeeded in adding a compelling new dimension to the study of witchcraft in early modern europe
