most americans know the story of pocahontas but not the fact that she was a christian and the reasons for her dramatic conversion pocahontas had a history altering encounter with jesus christ a key figure was alexander whitaker pioneer anglican missionary in virginia who taught pocahontas the christian faith but is almost totally unknown today this story of pocahontas has never fully been told or it has been ridiculed yet it is true as this book now documents in these pages the real pocahontas comes alive as a flesh and blood person with her own thoughts and decisions this book shows the beauty the romance and the tragedy of pocahontas s short life it also traces the way the pocahontas story has been used and misused over the past 400 years opening the door to the larger issue of the suppression of native peoples in us history the real story of pocahontas presents a timely case study both in the history of missions and the history of america an investigation of the interplay between gospel culture and national mythology in settler aesthetics an analysis of renowned director terrence malick s 2005 film the new world mishuana goeman examines the continuity of imperialist exceptionalism and settler colonial aesthetics the story of pocahontas has thrived for centuries as a cover for settler colonial erasure destruction and violence against native peoples and native women in particular since the romanticized story of the encounter and relationship between pocahontas and captain john smith was first published it has imprinted a whitewashed historical memory into the minds of americans as one of the most enduring tropes of imperialist nostalgia in world history renaissance european invasions of indigenous lands by settlers trades in a falsified civilizational discourse that has been a focus in literature for centuries and in films since their inception ironically malick himself was a symbol of the new hollywood in his early career but with the new world he created a film that serves as a buttress for racial capitalism in the americas focusing on settler structures the setup of regimes of power sexual violence and the gendering of colonialism and the sustainability of colonialism and empires goeman masterfully peels away the visual layers of settler logics in the new world creating a language in native american and indigenous studies for interpreting visual media
