today many states have proposed so called don t say gay bills that prohibit public school teachers from mentioning lgbtq topics in the classroom but a few states like california have taken decisive steps in the other direction they mandate inclusive education that treats lgbtq history as essential to the curriculum at once a history of an evolving movement and an activist handbook contested curriculum navigates the rocky path to lgbtq inclusive k 12 history education in the united states and recounts the fight for a curriculum that recognizes the value of queer and trans lives what began in fits and starts in activism and educational materials across the late twentieth century led to the passage of california's landmark fair education act in 2011 ensuring that lgbtq history has a place in the k 12 classroom historian don romesburg the lead scholar who worked with advocacy organizations to pass the act recounts the decades long struggle to integrate lgbtq content into history education policy textbooks and classrooms looking at california and states that followed its lead he assesses the challenges and opportunities presented by this new way of teaching history romesburg's powerful case for lgbtq inclusive education is all the more urgent in this era of anti gay book bans regressive legislation and attempts to diminish the vital role that inclusive and honest history education should play in a democratic nation in Menace to the Future Jess Whatcott traces the link between us disability institutions and early twentieth century eugenicist ideology demonstrating how the legacy of those ideas continues to shape incarceration and detention today whatcott focuses on california examining records from state institutions and reform organizations newspapers and state hospital museum exhibits they reveal that state confinement coercive treatment care neglect and forced sterilization were done out of the belief that the perceived unfitness of disabled mad and neurodivergent people was hereditary and thus posed a biological threat a so called menace to the future whatcott uncovers a history of disabled resistance to these institutions that predates disability rights movements builds a genealogy of resistance and tells a history of eugenics from below theorizing how what they call carceral eugenics informed state treatment of disabled mad and neurodivergent people a century ago whatcott shows not only how that same logic still exists in secure treatment facilities state prisons and immigration detention centers but also why it must continue to be resisted entire neighborhoods in cities across the united states have become open air asylums drug markets and impoverished wastelands where death misery crime addiction encampments fires disease and even human waste aren't just tolerated but normalized how is this possible when billions of taxpayer dollars have been funneled into homelessness initiatives such as housing first the truth is that the money poured into this issue from taxpayers non profits and private charities alike has mostly made homelessness worse overall and governments failures haven't just wasted taxpayer dollars it has cost lives and undermined human dignity this isn't just incompetence it's immoral and unjust and it must end in beyond homeless good intentions bad outcomes transformative solutions mary l g theroux lawrence j mcquillan adam b summers and other scholars present a better approach rooted in proven solutions this groundbreaking new book based on years of research is exactly what is needed to address the crisis with forewords from acclaimed addiction medicine specialist and tv host dr drew pinsky and licensed master social worker scott ackerson the book gathers experts on every aspect of homelessness to present a stirring condemnation of the status quo and an inspiring vision for the future drawing on real life stories cutting edge research and alternative programs with metric driven successes they make the case for individualized holistic interventions that actually work discover how housing first initiatives have become governments default response to homelessness and why they fail why permanent supportive housing psh isn't just ineffective but dangerous how political interests fuel the homelessness industrial complex resulting in ever increasing spending while falling further behind the inspiring success of real alternatives such as haven for hope in texas and union rescue mission in los angeles policy changes that would truly ease the crisis for the unhoused and housed alike without breaking the bank the difference between responsible and irresponsible forms of harm reduction and much much more at the heart of this crisis are real people those experiencing homelessness and the residents who see their neighborhoods crumble both have paid a high price for failed policies both deserve better the good news we can do better beyond homeless good intentions bad outcomes transformative solutions shows us how
