a framework for knowledge ownership that challenges the mechanisms of inequality in modern society scholars of science technology medicine and law have all tended to emphasize knowledge as the sum of human understanding and its ownership as possession by law breaking with traditional discourse on knowledge property as something that concerns mainly words and intellectual history or science and law dagmar schäfer annapurna mamidipudi and marius buning propose technology as a central heuristic for studying the many implications of knowledge ownership toward this end they focus on the notions of knowledge and ownership in courtrooms workshops policy and research practices while also shedding light on scholarship itself as a powerful tool for making explicit the politics inherent in knowledge practices and social order the book presents case studies showing how diverse knowledge economies are created and how inequalities arise from them unlike scholars who have fragmented this discourse across the disciplines of anthropology sociology and history the editors highlight recent developments in the emerging field of the global history of knowledge as science as economy and as culture the case studies reveal how notions of knowing and owning emerge because they reciprocally produce and determine each other s limits and possibilities that is how we know inevitably affects how we can own what we know and how we own always impacts how and what we are able to know contributors dagmar
