Key Features of DID: - Multiple Personalities: Each with unique traits, memories, and behaviors. - Memory Gaps: Loss of memory regarding personal information or events when another personality is in control. - Alter Personalities: Sometimes called "alters," these are the different identities that coexist within the individual. - Switching: The process where control shifts from one personality to another, often abruptly. The Formation of Multiple Personalities: - Usually develops as a means to compartmentalize trauma. - Personalities can be formed around specific memories, roles, or responses to traumatic situations. - The primary personality often remains unaware of the existence of alters, leading to confusion and fragmentation. In Billy's case, the personalities included a shy, sensitive young boy; a confident, aggressive male; and a female personality, among others.
