chinese art has experienced its most profound metamorphosis since the early 1950s transforming from humble realism to socialist realism from revolutionary art to critical realism then avant garde movement and globalized chinese art with a hybrid mix of chinese philosophy imported but revised marxist ideology and western humanities chinese artists have created an alternative approach after a great ideological and aesthetic transition in the 1980s toward its own contemporaneity though interacting and intertwining with the art of rest of the world this book will investigate from the perspective of an activist critic and historian who grew up prior to and participated in the great transition and then researched and taught the subject the evolution of chinese art in modern and contemporary times the volume will be a comprehensive and insightful history of the one of the most sophisticated and unparalleled artistic and cultural phenomena in the modern world artists and critics explore the concept of real abstraction to help understand contemporary cultural production in the mind but not from there real abstraction and contemporary art considers how the marxian concept of real abstraction originally developed by alfred sohn rethel and recently updated by alberto toscano might help to define the economic social political and cultural complexities of our contemporary moment in doing so this volume brings together noted contemporary artists literary critics curators historians and social theorists who connect the concept of real abstraction with contemporary cultural production theoretical and artistic contributions from benjamin noys paul chan joao enxuto and erica love marina vishmidt sven lütticken and many others help to map out the relationship between political economy and artistic production in the realm of contemporary globalized cultural exchange this anthology places economic and social analyses alongside creative projects and visual essays to consider the many angles of contemporary art and how inquiry into the the production of abstraction through material and social processes can be used to better understand and hopefully change the conditions under which art is made seen and circulated today published in collaboration with name publications play art or interactive art is becoming a central concept in the contemporary art world disrupting the traditional role of passive observance usually assumed by audiences allowing them active participation the work of play artists from carsten holler s test site at the tate modern to gabriel orozco s ping pond table must be touched influenced and experienced the gallery goer is no longer a spectator but a co creator time to play explores the role of play as a central but neglected concept in aesthetics and a model for ground breaking modern and postmodern experiments that have intended to blur the boundary between art and life moving freely between disciplines katarzyna zimna links the theory and history of 20th and 21st century art with ideas developed within play game and leisure studies and the philosophical theories of kant gadamer and derrida to critically engage with current discussion on the role of the artist viewers curators and their spaces of encounter she combines a consideration of the philosophical implications of play with the examination of how it is actually used in modern and postmodern art looking at dada surrealism fluxus and relational aesthetics focusing mainly on process based art this bold book proposes a fresh approach reaching beyond classical cultural theories of play torn between a revival of aesthetics and the persistence of conceptualism critical writing about contemporary art has once again come to focus on differing views of its aesthetic dimension the context and character of these debates has however shifted markedly since the 1960s with changes in art practices institutions political contexts and theoretical paradigms and in particular with the global extension of the western art world since 1989 this inter and transdisciplinary collection of essays by philosophers artists critics and art historians reconsiders the place of the aesthetic in contemporary art with reference to four main themes aesthetics as sensate thinking the dissolution of artistic limits post autonomous practices and exhibition values in a global artworld the essays originate in talks given on the occasion of an international conference on aesthetics and contemporary art 2008 organized by the centre for research in modern european philosophy crmep middlesex university london in cooperation with the collaborative research centre aesthetic experience and the dissolution of artistic limits sfb 626 free university berlin contributors Éric alliez armen avanessian art language luis camnitzer sebastian egenhofer dorothea von hantelmann brian holmes pamela m lee stewart martin christoph menke peter osborne john rajchman juliane rebentisch
