how is art both distinct and different from the rest of human life while also mattering in and for it this central yet overlooked question in contemporary philosophy of art is at the heart of georg bertram s new aesthetic drawing on the resources of diverse philosophical traditions analytic philosophy french philosophy and german post kantian philosophy his book offers a systematic account of art as a human practice one that remains connected to the whole of life this is the definitive analysis of art as a social and perceptual system by germany s leading social theorist of the late 20th century it combines three decades of research in the social sciences phenomenology evolutionary biology cybernetics and information theory with an intimate knowledge of art history literature aesthetics and contemporary literary theory this book tackles the lack of synchronicity between art and copyright law proposing practical and interdisciplinary tools through which to navigate this conflict in the last decades high profile lawsuits have been filed against artists accused of plagiarism including jeff koons barbara kruger and andy warhol this book demonstrates how these cases are at odds with contemporary artistic reality in which the use of antecedent visual forms is common practice focusing on the dichotomies of original copy and of old new this work addresses this phenomenon from both theoretical and legal perspectives using swiss copyright law as the main case study the book comparatively assesses other international legal frameworks through understanding the origins of the conflict between art and copyright the book highlights solutions to handle copyright cases with a new methodological approach the book will be of interest to researchers in the field of art and copyright law intellectual property and art the open access version of this book available at taylorfrancis com has been made available under a creative commons attribution non commercial no derivatives cc by nc nd 4 0 license
